

Adventuring in the Woods

Where there is adventure, there are often trees. Building dens, playing hide and seek, discovering the tiny yet vast world of insects- trees create endless possibilities for creativity, discovery and play.

Forests and woods are full of treasures so why not explore and discover what your local woodland has to offer with this printable sensory scavenger hunt!

Finds of the Forest!

1. Find a fabulous forestry thing,
One that holds a sweet and fragrant smell of Spring!
2. Even during this gentle season, being a Tree can be tough,
One needs a thick skin- Find a bark that feels suitably rough!
3. At Easter time, these baby chicks are impatient to be eating-
Spot the nests where you hear them tweeting!
4. Look above the undergrowth, the Brambles and Nettles,
You wont have to seek too far for a tree now covered in petals!
5. The Easter Bunny's busy this year, hiding Eggs galore,
Find a place to hide these treats upon the Forest floor!
6. The Sun begins to warm us up, its rays- the trees do need,
Find a thing that is still cold to touch, maybe a pebble, a nut or seed!
7. The gusting wind intends for leaves and branches to meet,
Find a stick to draw its movement in the earth beneath your feet!
8. For wildlife, trees provide an awful lot-
Wide open spaces to meet and cozy holes to retreat.
Now discover something on a Tree that insects clearly love to eat!

